Last chance to apply for Alliance student bursaries

Family members of Alliance Group farmer shareholders are being encouraged to apply for one of the co-operative's undergraduate bursaries.

The $1,500 per annum Shareholder Undergraduate Bursary is open to the children of Alliance shareholders who intend pursuing a course of study in areas relating to the meat industry, associated industries or primary production.

Heather Stacy, General Manager Livestock and Shareholder Services, said: "As a 100 per cent co-operative, our farmers and their families are at the heart of every decision we make.

"We hope recipients undertaking tertiary or university education will get the opportunity to pass on the benefits of their learning to the co-operative, their communities and the industry."

The recipients will be selected from candidates enrolled for a full-time course of study at a university or other agreed establishment within New Zealand

The closing date for applications is Monday 11 February 2019.
